

FundStudio Recruits Marc Flamini, Former Global Head of Sales at SS&C Advent, as Chief Revenue Officer

Flamini brings twenty-three years of experience in fintech software solutions to FundStudio

Fort Lee, NJ – FundStudio, a leading provider of Portfolio and Order Management Systems for alternative investment managers and administrators, has appointed Marc Flamini as Chief Revenue Officer. Flamini joins FundStudio after an impressive twenty-three-year career in sales at SS&C Advent.

In his new role, Flamini will lead FundStudio’s market expansion and revenue growth, reporting to the CEO, Costas Kellas.

"We are excited to bring Marc onboard. He brings decades of industry experience and has a deep understanding of software solutions that managers in the alternative investment space need. We look forward to working together as we further expand the adoption of our best-in-class software in the broader market." - CEO Costas Kellas

Flamini started at Advent in a sales role, progressing to a managerial position as the head of the Alternative Sales team where he successfully led the mainstream adoption of Gevena, which ultimately became the company’s flagship product. From there, he was promoted to Global Head of Sales for all Advent products.

His appointment signifies the company's strategic focus on expanding operations and capturing new opportunities. "Marc is joining us at a great time. We have a superior product, and with his deep expertise, we look forward to expanding our footprint in the industry." - CTO Anthony King

With Flamini’s successful track record of driving sales and fostering client relationships, FundStudio is poised to grow and solidify its position as a key player in the financial technology sector. His insights and leadership are expected to play a pivotal role in guiding the company through its next phase of development and expansion.

Flamini is an alumnus of Rutgers University in New Jersey, US.
